

Supporting our Military since 2004

Summer 2017

Hi Everyone,

Hope everyone is having a great summer. We understand Summer is a busy time for most of us which means we don't have as many seamstresses sewing for Sew Much Comfort. If you can help sew, please place an order for a kit by emailing Linda and Sheryl at Distribution: smcdistro@sewmuchcomfort.org

A few notes:

- If you have extra supplies (velcro, bias tape, garments, etc), please send them back to our distribution center. It saves us money by reducing supply orders!
- You can log onto our web site under dropdown "volunteer", there you will find "volunteer login". Use your login/password to get to your page to see orders shipped and received. You can also print instructions. If you need help contact Linda or Sheryl at smcdistro@sewmuchcomfort.org
- If you have any questions about your order, kits received, or any comments, contact Linda or Sheryl.
- We understand that things can come up and you may not be able to complete your kit in the 30 - 45 days. We ask that you send an email letting us know it will be taking longer.

We are so very grateful that you share your time and talent to support Sew Much Comfort – Thank You! You should all feel extremely proud that we have provided 152,694 (5/31/2107) pieces of quality adaptive clothing to our wounded service members. We appreciate that you help us to "honor, remember, and support", our wounded service members as they recover from their injuries and transition back to their communities.

The current conflict, Operation Inherent Resolve, the operation to destroy ISIS in Iraq and Syria continues with air strikes. The destruction of ISIS targets in Iraq and Syria is limiting terror groups from operating in the region and the rest of the world.

The fight in Afghanistan remains important, the Defense Secretary Jim Mattis said, noting that Afghanistan was the staging ground for the al-Qaida terrorists who attacked America on Sept. 11, 2001. There are 4,000 more troops being sent to Afghanistan to help Afghanistan's army against a resurgent Taliban insurgency.

Many of us have plans for the upcoming July 4th holiday that will involve spending time with family. But, July 4th also gives us an opportunity to remember and thank those who have bravely served our nation.

Our service men and women are working hard in Iraq, Afghanistan, and elsewhere to defend our freedom. These men and women in uniform, now and throughout history, have dedicated their lives to uphold our inalienable rights – life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. So, as we enjoy our summer with family and friends, please keep our Military and their families in your thoughts, prayers and thank those who have made our freedom possible, yesterday, today and into the future.

Thank you for being part of our Sew Much Comfort family. We are so thankful for your love, support and patriotism.
